Pathways To Freedom

a 24-week empowerment program grounded in evidence-based practices, trauma-informed care, and survivor feedback

Every ONE Free walks with survivors of human trafficking and exploitation on their journey to freedom and empowerment.

Pathways To Freedom is the primary service we offer to survivors of trafficking and sexual exploitation. The program is designed to support healing, build practical skills, and foster sustainable, self-directed growth.

Pathways To Freedom is a court-approved, two-part curriculum delivered online via Zoom

Classes meet once per week for approximately two hours. Participants complete weekly homework to reinforce learning and support successful outcomes.

Participants receive individualized case management and mentoring

Our team walks alongside survivors as partners, helping them apply what they are learning in real life by connecting them to essential resources.

Graduates complete Pathways To Freedom with tangible tools

Tools include a comprehensive safety plan, a professional resume, short- and long-term life goals with a development plan, and an individualized education and job goal plan.

Part 1: Self Exploration on the Healing Journey (Weeks 1–12)

In the first half of the program, participants focus on safety, emotional awareness, and healing. Survivors learn how trauma impacts thoughts, emotions, and behaviors, and develop healthy coping strategies to support stability and well-being.

Part 2: Building Empowerment and Life Skills (Weeks 13–24)

The second half of the program centers on building skills for long-term independence and personal growth. Participants identify strengths and goals while developing practical tools for education, employment, and financial stability.
